Office Action Summary	Application No. 10/606,413	Applicant(s) MILLER ET AL.
	Examiner Chandrika Prasad	Art Unit 2839

-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --

Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on 26 June 2003.
- 2a) ☐ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☒ This action is non-final.

DETAILED ACTION

1. The title of the invention is not descriptive. A new title is required that is clearly indicative of the invention to which the claims are directed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1-3, 5-13 and 15-19 and are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Lutzen et al. (6390688).

Lutzen (Figures 1-17) shows a connector system 10 having a thermoplastic connector plug 12 with an axial bore between its distal and proximal ends, a metallic crimp insert 122 [including a bushing 120 and an elastometer tube 121] defining a central (axial) bore with a portion 139 with a diameter equal to that of a jacket (cladding) 144 of an optical fiber cable 142 and a second portion 168 having a diameter equal to the diameter of an unjacketed portion (core) 140 of the optical fiber cable wherein the crimp insert is deformed at axially spaced positions corresponding to the first and second portions of the central (axial) bore of the crimp insert. The crimp insert has a plurality of axially spaced ribs or rings 126, 128 formed on its circumference. The bushing 120 and tube 121 form two portions of a ferrule for the optical cable.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 4, 14 and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Lutzen et al. (6390688).

Lutzen shows all the features of these claims as described in paragraph 3 above except the crimp insert made of aluminum and the material of the core and cladding. Aluminum is a well known material which can be easily crimped or deformed. As to the claim 20, the use of silica and polymer for the core and cladding of an optical fiber cable is well known. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time of the instant invention to make the crimp insert of aluminum, the core made of silica and cladding made of a polymer because it has been held to be within the general skill of a worker in the art to select a known material on the basis of its suitability for the intended use. In re Leshin, 125 USPQ 416.

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Mead et al. (59434600), Bowen et al. (3999837), Fan (5732175) and Lin et al. (5671310).
